

a guard of four plain clothes men. An electric hansom was in waiting, and the big Russian quickly climbed on board.

Then the plain clothes men got into a touring car and the party started for St. Nicholas' Orthodox Russian Cathedral, where Mr. Witte attended a solemn Te Deum. According to the services Mr. Witte's name was called out by Archbishop Alexander Hovitzki, of the Russian church. The giant form of the minister arose, and he proceeded down the aisle. Directly in front of the altar he stopped to receive the archbishop's blessing.

With his right hand raised and in solemn tones, the venerable prelate said: "I bless you and the whole Russian nation. You have the good of Russia in your hand. You must be good and not make shame for the name of Russia. You have a great question to decide, and you must decide it from the best dictates of your heart."

After the benediction the peace envoy kissed the cross. The national anthem was sung by the entire congregation, and the ceremonies were ended.

Immediately after service, Mr. Witte returned to the St. Regis, where he picked up his secretary and the two, accompanied as before by the plain clothes men, started for the ferry. A special car was attached to the regular 11:02 train.

After lunch with the President the envoy will return to New York.

Many More Visitors For the President

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 4.—After the peace envoy leave Sagamore Hill today the President will receive a number of other visitors. Among these will be George Smalley, American correspondent of the London Times, who will introduce Sir Donald McKensie Wallace and Dr. Dillion, the representative of the London Telegraph.

Messrs. Smalley and Dillion, it is understood, are coming primarily to request permission to be present on the Mayflower during tomorrow's ceremony. Two Koreans, the Rev. P. K. Yoon and Synman Rhee, of Seoul, who came here yesterday afternoon to "pay a memorial at the feet of the President," have not yet been granted an audience, and it is more than likely that they will be obliged to depart without seeing the Executive. Acting Secretary Barnes intimated this morning that the President would probably decide to refer them to the Korean legation at Washington.

It is they are denied permission to see the President it will be a sad blow to the quiet little envoys who have traveled thousands of miles to execute their mission. They claim to represent the great progressive party in Korea known as "Il Chin Khe," which, in English, means the "Society of Daily Progress."

They assert that the Korean Emperor does not represent the people, but is under foreign domination.

The Society of Progress is anxious for the President to extend the friendship for Korea at this time in order to avert the partition or the absorption of the little country by the Japanese or Russians.

Ambassador Durand Cables Peace Terms

BIRMINGHAM, England, Aug. 4.—The Post states that Sir Mortimer Durand, the English ambassador to the United States, has cabled to Lord Lansdowne the principal features of the Russian and Japanese peace terms.

The stipulations made by the opposing nations are of such a nature, the paper declares, that they have caused the conviction that the negotiations between the two nations will be unsuccessful or else one of the countries must give way considerably from the position which has now been taken.

The Post adds that pressure is being brought to bear on Japan to induce her to moderate her demands.

TRIED TO BLOW UP THE JANE MOSELEY

(Continued From First Page.)

still held the huge wrench in his hands, and in fear of his striking me I slammed the door shut in his face.

"The engines had stopped and on the steamers was an armed throng of men, some hardly knowing which way to proceed in order to quell the riot that was brewing. Several of the men were sent to the chest and found screws and nuts and set about repairing the damaged boiler."

"Throw Him Overboard."

"Let us at him!" "Kill him!" "Throw him overboard!" were the cries of the infuriated passengers as they demanded that he be turned over to them. We were at our wits' end, and as a last resort informed the captain that they would wait until the steamer reached the city we would turn the man over to them. This somewhat quieted the crowd, and muttering and grumbling, they fell away from the door.

While a major portion of the mob dispersed, a few still lingered about the door of the prisoner's room.

From then on Scott made no noise and apparently went to sleep. Several of the crew remained at the door until the steamer moored at her wharf at the foot of Johnson street, when they were hurriedly dispatched by two officers, Patrolmen Stritch and Scarborough, who were found at the corner below and hastily answered the summons.

It was only by a miracle that the steamer was not blown to pieces and a horrible catastrophe averted, said Engineer Jones, as he walked out of the station. Fully 500 passengers were on board.

Washingtonians Know Nothing of Man Scott

A number of persons in Washington who are interested in the steamer Jane Moseley were seen today and all disclaimed any knowledge of or acquaintance with Bernard Scott, who was arrested in Baltimore for attempting to destroy the boat. Those with whom the matter was discussed said they knew of no such person who is in any way even remotely interested in the steamer.

The Jane Moseley has been a subject of litigation between the Freedman's Transportation, Land and Improvement Company on the one side and the Jane Moseley Steamship Company on the other for a long time in the local courts. The boat has been used for quite a period as a colored excursion boat.

Recently the Freedman's Transportation Company caused an injunction to be issued by the District Supreme Court against the Jane Moseley Company and Lewis Jefferson, general manager of the steamer, to prevent it being taken beyond the District limits. This order of court, it is said, has been on several occasions violated by the defendant, and about a week ago the Freedman's Transportation Company asked that Lewis Jefferson be ruled for contempt for disregarding the order of court.

The court at the same time was also asked to restrain Jefferson from taking the Jane Moseley to Baltimore on Saturday last for the purpose of carrying an excursion party down Chesapeake Bay.

The petition was, however, denied and the steamer was taken from the District to Baltimore Friday night and has remained there since.

MR. LOOMIS SADLY IN NEED OF A REST

Advice received here from Assistant Secretary Loomis written before his departure from Europe for New York state that he has been considerably fatigued by his efforts in connection with the shipping of Paul Jones' body to this country, and therefore will be under the necessity of taking a few days' rest before undertaking to resume his official duties.

"GRUEL CARNAGE" AROUSED THE CAMP

Mimic Warfare Featured on Bolivar Heights.

CITIZEN SOLDIERS ACTIVE

Officers More Than Satisfied With Success of Maneuvers by the District Guardsmen.

CAMP ORDWAY, Bolivar Heights, W. Va., Aug. 4.—Extended order maneuvers were begun in camp today, and after witnessing the morning drill, which lasted for two hours, General Harries was satisfied that he had a prize brigade of soldiers who are more proficient at fighting while strung out across a field as skirmishers than when in close order.

The commanding officer was so favorably impressed with the work of the civilian soldiers that he will give them more and more intricate extended order movements each day.

General Harries stated today that he was almost positive that Lieutenant General Corbin would visit the camp on Saturday morning. He will be met at the station by Harries, his staff, Colonel

Two Koreans, the Rev. P. K. Yoon and Synman Rhee, of Seoul, who came here yesterday afternoon to "pay a memorial at the feet of the President," have not yet been granted an audience, and it is more than likely that they will be obliged to depart without seeing the Executive.

Acting Secretary Barnes intimated this morning that the President would probably decide to refer them to the Korean legation at Washington.

It is they are denied permission to see the President it will be a sad blow to the quiet little envoys who have traveled thousands of miles to execute their mission.

They claim to represent the great progressive party in Korea known as "Il Chin Khe," which, in English, means the "Society of Daily Progress."

They assert that the Korean Emperor does not represent the people, but is under foreign domination.

The Society of Progress is anxious for the President to extend the friendship for Korea at this time in order to avert the partition or the absorption of the little country by the Japanese or Russians.

The stipulations made by the opposing nations are of such a nature, the paper declares, that they have caused the conviction that the negotiations between the two nations will be unsuccessful or else one of the countries must give way considerably from the position which has now been taken.

The Post adds that pressure is being brought to bear on Japan to induce her to moderate her demands.

From then on Scott made no noise and apparently went to sleep. Several of the crew remained at the door until the steamer moored at her wharf at the foot of Johnson street, when they were hurriedly dispatched by two officers, Patrolmen Stritch and Scarborough, who were found at the corner below and hastily answered the summons.

It was only by a miracle that the steamer was not blown to pieces and a horrible catastrophe averted, said Engineer Jones, as he walked out of the station. Fully 500 passengers were on board.

Washingtonians know nothing of Man Scott.

A number of persons in Washington who are interested in the steamer Jane Moseley were seen today and all disclaimed any knowledge of or acquaintance with Bernard Scott, who was arrested in Baltimore for attempting to destroy the boat.

Those with whom the matter was discussed said they knew of no such person who is in any way even remotely interested in the steamer.

The Jane Moseley has been a subject of litigation between the Freedman's Transportation, Land and Improvement Company on the one side and the Jane Moseley Steamship Company on the other for a long time in the local courts.

The boat has been used for quite a period as a colored excursion boat.

Recently the Freedman's Transportation Company caused an injunction to be issued by the District Supreme Court against the Jane Moseley Company and Lewis Jefferson, general manager of the steamer, to prevent it being taken beyond the District limits.

This order of court, it is said, has been on several occasions violated by the defendant, and about a week ago the Freedman's Transportation Company asked that Lewis Jefferson be ruled for contempt for disregarding the order of court.

The court at the same time was also asked to restrain Jefferson from taking the Jane Moseley to Baltimore on Saturday last for the purpose of carrying an excursion party down Chesapeake Bay.

The petition was, however, denied and the steamer was taken from the District to Baltimore Friday night and has remained there since.

Advice received here from Assistant Secretary Loomis written before his departure from Europe for New York state that he has been considerably fatigued by his efforts in connection with the shipping of Paul Jones' body to this country, and therefore will be under the necessity of taking a few days' rest before undertaking to resume his official duties.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

Mr. Loomis is in need of a rest.

A Rare Discovery.

The Champion Sausage Eater.

Biddle and the other instructing officers. They will escort him to camp, where a salute will be fired by the First Battery, Field Artillery, D. C. The military commission has signified their intention of visiting the camp and looking over the 1,400 or more tents.

The weather continues warm, but the camp is located on top of one of the highest hills and a breeze sweeps by now and then. It is doubtful if a better camp site could have been selected.

While a major portion of the mob dispersed, a few still lingered about the door of the prisoner's room.

From then on Scott made no noise and apparently went to sleep. Several of the crew remained at the door until the steamer moored at her wharf at the foot of Johnson street, when they were hurriedly dispatched by two officers, Patrolmen Stritch and Scarborough, who were found at the corner below and hastily answered the summons.

It was only by a miracle that the steamer was not blown to pieces and a horrible catastrophe averted, said Engineer Jones, as he walked out of the station. Fully 500 passengers were on board.

Washingtonians Know Nothing of Man Scott

A number of persons in Washington who are interested in the steamer Jane Moseley were seen today and all disclaimed any knowledge of or acquaintance with Bernard Scott, who was arrested in Baltimore for attempting to destroy the boat. Those with whom the matter was discussed said they knew of no such person who is in any way even remotely interested in the steamer.

The Jane Moseley has been a subject of litigation between the Freedman's Transportation, Land and Improvement Company on the one side and the Jane Moseley Steamship Company on the other for a long time in the local courts. The boat has been used for quite a period as a colored excursion boat.

Recently the Freedman's Transportation Company caused an injunction to be issued by the District Supreme Court against the Jane Moseley Company and Lewis Jefferson, general manager of the steamer, to prevent it being taken beyond the District limits. This order of court, it is said, has been on several occasions violated by the defendant, and about a week ago the Freedman's Transportation Company asked that Lewis Jefferson be ruled for contempt for disregarding the order of court.

The court at the same time was also asked to restrain Jefferson from taking the Jane Moseley to Baltimore on Saturday last for the purpose of carrying an excursion party down Chesapeake Bay.

The petition was, however, denied and the steamer was taken from the District to Baltimore Friday night and has remained there since.

MR. LOOMIS SADLY IN NEED OF A REST

Advice received here from Assistant Secretary Loomis written before his departure from Europe for New York state that he has been considerably fatigued by his efforts in connection with the shipping of Paul Jones' body to this country, and therefore will be under the necessity of taking a few days' rest before undertaking to resume his official duties.

Cassie Chadwick Pays Seven Mills on Dollar

Has $14,000 to Meet Indebtedness of $2,000,000—Her Property Brought $25,000, But $10,300 Goes to Lawyers.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 4.—Cassie Chadwick's assets have at last been definitely ascertained.

There is about $14,000 with which to meet an indebtedness of $2,000,000.

In other words, the creditors will get about seven mills on the dollar.

Mr. Remington, the referee in bankruptcy, succeeded in collecting about $35,000 worth of Chadwick property, but there are attorneys' fees and court costs amounting to $10,200, which must be paid before the creditors can share the remainder.

Mrs. Chadwick, "the queen of high finance," has been sentenced to ten years' imprisonment for fraudulently obtaining national extent and boldness unparalleled. An appeal is pending.

Wonderful Shrewdness.

By fraud she lived like a very rich woman, although she really had little or no money of her own, and she was shrewd enough to make one fraud cover up another for a long time.

expected that several hundred visitors from Harpers Ferry and the town of Bolivar will witness the drill. There is an entirely different nature from that which they had while in company formation. After an hour's work of this character, the battalions were formed into the First and Second Regiments, and then there followed six minutes of different regimental field maneuvering. When the guardsmen finally turned toward their tents they were not at all frisky, and the majority of them fell upon their backs to take a rest while others hurried to the swimming "hole."

There were two direct lines to Washington, and the officers and men having important business have telephoned to the National Capital dozens of times already.

Full Signal Drilling.

Today Lieutenant Locklin began the full signal drilling. The men used the red flags with white squares in the center and the white flags with red squares in the center. By wagging these standards from side to side and in front and back of them, the Signal Corps men or wigwaggers spell out many words that can be "heard" by others half a mile away.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.

Lieutenant Locklin quite a dash ring about the grounds, and he is a handsome and manly-looking officer and one of the kind that people usually turn around and take a second look at after seeing him. Private Hines, who has been styled "Gloves," because he wears long gloves, is also a handsome and manly-looking officer.